ITALY RECEIVES EMPEROR TODAY

CZAR OF THE RUSSIAS MAKES TRIUMPHAL ENTRANCE INTO VICTOR'S LAND.

RECEIVED WARM WELCOME

Even Mayor of Rome Greeted the Royal Visitor on His Entrance Into Kingdom.

Rome, Oct. 23.—The Emperor of Russia made a triumphant entry into Italy today and his reception was most cordial and popular. The day's rejoicing was spontaneous and genuine, even the mayor of Rome having been sent by the radical and socialist board of aldermen to participate in the imperial reception.

Broadly viewed, the much discussed and long anticipated meeting between Emperor Nicholas and King Victor Emmanuel opened most auspiciously. The Emperor arrived here at 3:30 this afternoon and from the moment the imperial party entered Italy through the famous Mont Cenis tunnel at Modane until it reached the Royal castle it was attended by an extraordinary military guard.

DETECTIVES FOILED VERY CLEVER GAME

Express Agent Wanted to Get Rich Too Quickly and Robbed Company.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 23.—Driven by what he declared was a sudden impulse to get rich quick, James Mahan, night agent of the American Express company at the union depot, originated a fake hold-up story, after it is alleged, robbing the company's safe of four thousand dollars in currency this morning.

After sewing one thousand dollars in large bills in the lining of his coat sleeves and scattering the remainder of the stolen plunder about in obscure places throughout the union depot, he notified the police he had been help up and robbed.

A detective who grabbed Mahan by the arm, heard the clinking of bills in his coat sleeves. Mahan was searched and the money found.

Mahan then broke down and is said to have confessed. All but ten dollars of the missing money was recovered. Mahan is in jail.

UNION OFFICIAL IS FOUND MURDERED

His Throat Cut and Badly Gashed With Wounds—No Clues.

St. Paul, Oct. 23.—With his throat cut and on the body of Melville, Keene, the business agent of the carpenters' union, was found today. There is no clue.

CLAIMS INJURIES CAUSED BLINDNESS

Man Says He Was Injured by Being Beaten by Officers.

La Crosse, Wis., October 23.—Alleging he became blind as a result of a beating-up at the hands of the city marshal while drunk and as a result of his confinement in jail without proper care, Andrew Larson has been suit in circuit court against J. O. Walker of Onalaska for $2000 damages.

RUSSIA DENIES THE TRUTH OF REPORTS

Says That Report Powers Objected to Their Management of Manchuria Is Incorrect.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 23.—It is denied today that there is any truth in last night's rumor to the effect that the Powers had addressed a joint note to Russia concerning its affairs in Manchuria.

DECATUR RESIDENTS INJURED BY STORM

Two Men Fatally Injured by Falling Walls and Young Girl Is Also Injured.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 23.—During a storm last night Karl Koehnert and James Connolly were fatally hurt in the collapse of the wall of the Illinois Traction system blacksmith shop, and Mable Pichinger, aged 19, was fatally injured by the fall of her father's house.

UNIVERSALISTS IN ANNUAL SESSION

Meeting in Detroit Opens for Its Formal Transaction of Business This Morning.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 23.—The biennial convention of the Universalist church entered upon a program of routine business today. Among the features of today's program was the receiving of fraternal greetings from the Detroit clergy of other denominations.

TAFT PROCEEDS ON WAY TO WASHINGTON

President Entertained For Three Hours Today in Houston Goes To Dallas Tonight.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Houston, Texas, Oct. 23.—The people of Houston, reinforced by thousands of visitors from Galveston and other points within a radius of fifty miles, gave President Taft a splendid reception during his three hours' stay here this morning. There was a practical suspension of business and along the route of the procession from the railroad station to Rice's hotel, from the balcony of which the President delivered a public address, residences and stores were covered with decorations.

The sidewalks and streets were thronged with people, and at several points, along the route hundreds of school children were massed, singing national songs, as the procession passed. Following his address the President was taken on a drive about the city. Promptly at 10:30 o'clock the presidential special, amid an outburst of cheers from the thousands who had gathered about the depot, departed for the Houston and Texas Central railroad for Dallas.

Dallas Ready For President. Dallas, Texas, Oct. 23.—With thousands of flags and countless yards of bunting fluttering in the breeze and with the city crowded with visitors as seldom before in her history, the city of Dallas, metropolis of the great domain of northern Texas, is awaiting in eager expectancy the coming of President Taft. The President is due to reach the city shortly before 6 o'clock this evening and will spend the night here.

Immediately upon arrival here the President's private car will be switched to the Texas State fair grounds, where the President will address the crowds from the race track grandstand. Following the speaking there will be an automobile parade directly to the Oriental hotel, where the President and his party will be guests at a banquet arranged by the local committee. It is expected the President will pass the night at the hotel, though accommodations have been reserved at the hotel should he care to use them. At 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning the presidential train will depart for St. Louis.

To Make Brief Stop At Terrell. Terrell, Texas, Oct. 23.—President Taft, enroute from Dallas to St. Louis, will make a fifteen-minute stop in Terrell tomorrow morning. The Sunday school children of the city will be assembled at the Union Station and will be addressed by the President.

Streets Gay With Bunting. Marshall, Texas, Oct. 23.—The people of Marshall are making great preparations for the visit of President Taft tomorrow. The vicinity of the Texas and Pacific railroad station is being gayly decorated with flags and bunting, and it is expected hundreds of visitors will come to the city to hear the President's address. The President will speak from the rear platform of his car, as the stay here will be limited to a quarter of an hour.

Texarkana's Plans For Taft. Texarkana, Texas, Oct. 23.—President Taft has accepted an invitation to make a brief stop here tomorrow afternoon, and elaborate arrangements for his reception have been completed. Business houses and residences are being decorated in honor of the occasion. The President will be welcomed by a committee headed by Mayor A. B. DeLoach of the Texas side, Mayor H. L. Trigg of the Arkansas side and President Pondrom of the board of trade.

A UNIQUE FEATURE IN NEXT ELECTION

Women Will Guard Polls While Men Wrestle With Biggest Ballot on Record—Two Feet Wider Than Voting Booths.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

New York, Oct. 23.—The city election which will take place on the 22d of November promises to be unique in municipal history, in that women will turn out in considerable numbers for the first time to act as watchers at the polls. Just how the plan which is hatched by the equal suffrage enthusiasts will work out remains to be seen. Present opinion is largely shaped according to one's view of the suffrage question. One's view of the suffrage question is largely shaped according to one's view of the suffrage question. BLACKMAIL CAUSED DEATH OF ITALIAN Claims He Was Murdered by Two Men From Street, Illinois—No Arrests Made.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 23.—Salvatore Pinelli, a laborer, who was fatally shot last night while walking in the Italian district, made a statement before his death today accusing two Italians from Street, Ill., of waylaying and shooting him. Pinelli declared that his assassin had written threatening letters to him demanding money. No arrests have as yet been made.

WESTERN TEACHERS ELECTED OFFICERS AT MEETING

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 23.—The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Western Wisconsin Teachers' Association in session here this afternoon: President, L. P. Deanez, La Crosse; vice-president, Ella Davis, Viroqua; secretary, treasurer, R. B. Davis, Sparta; directors, H. M. Hanes, Monroe county, and B. F. Otman of West Salem.

WILL HE REVERSE HIS DECISION?

MISSISSIPPI TRIP BEGINS ON MONDAY

President Arrives in St. Louis First Of Week To Start On Boatride Down "Father Of Waters."

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—President Taft will arrive in St. Louis Monday morning and on the afternoon of the same day will begin another important stage of his 13,000-mile journey about the country. Accompanied by the governors of a score of states, together with a large party of Congressmen and other public officials, the President will journey by steamboat down the Mississippi River from St. Louis to New Orleans. A flotilla of torpedo boats will act as escort.

On the trip down the Mississippi stops will be made at Cairo, Memphis, St. Charles, and one or two other places. The President will remain in New Orleans from Friday afternoon to Monday morning. On Saturday afternoon he will deliver an address before the Deep Waterways Convention.

Great impetus to the movement for the rapid settlement of the 200,000,000 acres of semiarid lands in the West and South is expected to be given by the fourth Day Farming Congress, which will meet in Billings, Mont., Tuesday for a session of three days. The conference will be addressed by agricultural experts and other representatives of the United States, Canada, Mexico and several European countries.

An important meeting of the Foundation for the Promotion of Industrial Peace will be held in Washington Tuesday. Chief Justice Fuller of the United States Supreme Court will preside. The principal topic of discussion will be the framing of by-laws and the advisability of using a portion of the income of the fund as a prize for essays on the best methods for bringing about peace in industrial pursuits.

At the invitation of Governor Harman of Ohio the National Good Roads Congress will assemble in Columbus Tuesday for a three days' session. The committee in charge of arrangements is in receipt of advices indicating an attendance of delegates from nearly every state and Territory of the Union. The work will be a notable one in automobile circles. A bunch of speedy cars will depart from New York Monday at noon on a speed and endurance run to Atlanta. On the same day the "Flag to Flag" race will start from Denver, with the City of Mexico as the objective point. Of still greater public interest will be the renewal of the Vanderbilt Cup race, which is scheduled to take place Saturday over the Long Island Motor Speedway.

The Russian parliament will assemble Thursday for what promises to be the most important session since its establishment. The program prepared by the government provides for the introduction of a number of measures of high importance, though many eagerly desired reforms will be deferred for tactical reasons. The program is headed by the consolidation of rural holdings bill, the reform of local courts, the inheritance and income tax measures and the bill for universal primary education.

The first census numbered the inhabitants of the 48 original states. On the whole it was vastly more difficult to take the forth-coming enumeration of 1910. Conditions were much more difficult. All work west of the Alleghenies was practically abandoned, in spite of the fact that there was an important interest in the Northwest, but Detroit was not reported, neither was Vincennes.

Philadelphia was then the capital of the nation and Washington was still a paper plan without a name, but popularly called the "White City." Only one wall of the White House had been built, and the site for the national capital building had been scarcely surveyed.

The enumerators employed to take the first census were not even provided with blanks, and they used such odds and ends as they chanced to have, or could beg or borrow, such as butcher's brown paper, bits of parchment, the back of wallpaper, or slips pasted in from ribbons. One of the greatest difficulties in taking the enumeration was a religious superstition. Many of the preachers were violently opposed to a census, because in Biblical times a curse fell over the land when the children of Israel were numbered.

The first census showed a population of 3,900,000 whites and 700,000 slaves, or, every 11th person in the country was a slave.

EXAMINATIONS FOR THE CENSUS CLERKS

Civil Service Examinations Today in Principal Cities For First Batch Of Clerks.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—The first important step in the gigantic task of taking the thirteenth decennial United States census was taken today, when civil service examinations were held in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta, New Orleans, Cincinnati, St. Paul, San Francisco, Denver and several other large cities for the selection of the first batch of the three thousand temporary clerks who are to be appointed in the Census Bureau. Very few appointments from today's examination will be made before the first of the year, and not many will be made until next April. The maximum force will be drawn about August.

These 3,000 appointments will be given salaries of about $600 per annum at the beginning but promotions to $900 per annum, at least, will be reasonably rapid for those who render satisfactory service. All appointments will be on probation, subject to termination at one month or any later period if the appointee does not come up to the requirements.

During the period of greatest activity about 4500 clerks will be employed in the office and 65,000 in the field. This force represents a larger body than the combined population of New York and Boston 120 years ago, when the first census was taken.

The enumeration of 1790 cost $11,000 and at that time money ran out and the names were never printed. Next year's census has behind it an appropriation of $10,000,000, and an emergency fund of $1,000,000 additional. In other words, the design is to proceed regardless of cost, efficiency being of more importance than economy. The aim is to make the census of 1910 the most efficient ever taken in the United States.

The first census numbered the inhabitants of the 48 original states. On the whole it was vastly more difficult to take the forth-coming enumeration of 1910. Conditions were much more difficult. All work west of the Alleghenies was practically abandoned, in spite of the fact that there was an important interest in the Northwest, but Detroit was not reported, neither was Vincennes.

PORTOLA FESTIVAL BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Week's Celebration For Spanish Discoverer Will End At San Francisco Tonight.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 23.—This is the last day of the Portola festival, which for a week has furnished lavish entertainment for the people of San Francisco and an immense number of visitors from out of town. Tonight the tons of thousands of multicolored lights, which for a week have turned night into day in the downtown section of the city, will shed their rays on a scene of pagantry and merry-making such as never before has been witnessed here.

Gorgeous floats illustrating scenes and events in the early history of California will parade through Market street and other leading thoroughfares. The floats are the largest ever constructed. A miniature Yosemite falls will be seen, together with the famed Shasta Springs and the big trees of the Mariposa grove. A Mission house, typical of California's early history, will be shown, and Chinatown will be represented in all its oriental color. At intervals along the route of the procession bands will be stationed to furnish music for the street dancers and revellers.

DISCUSSION AS TO PROPOSED CHANGES

National W. C. T. U. Takes Up Morning Session With Talking Over Many Changes.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 23.—After the hour of prayer and prayer service this morning the second day's session of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union was called to order. The minutes and report of the executive committee were placed before the convention, after which the work and needs of the "Union Signal," the official organ of the organization, were discussed. The discussion as to the proposed constitutional amendments, some of which excited considerable interest, occupied a large part of the morning session.

The National Woman's Christian Union today adopted a resolution approving of the efforts of the Anti-Slavery League here for the county option bill.

A KNOCKOUT BLOW FOR LOAN SHARKS

Woman's Nat'l Civic Federation Plans Loan Association For Women Employees Of Uncle Sam.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

New York, Oct. 23.—If plans discussed at a meeting here today of the executive council of the Woman's National Civic Federation are carried out, the loan sharks for government employees will have a rough time. The women clerks of the Federal government in Washington will in future find a barrer field for their operations. The federation proposes to establish a loan association from which only the government employees in Washington will be eligible to borrow money.

The enormous rates of usury which are impoverishing women clients of the loan sharks in the national capital have indicated the urgent and immediate need of relief. Instances are reported where a rate of 100 per cent has been demanded and given for a three-month loan of $5. Rates of 75 and 80 per cent have been charged, and 50 per cent usury is not uncommon. It is has been customary to extort higher rates from women, taking advantage of their known hesitation in seeking financial assistance in other directions, and shame in exposing their necessity to those near to them.

The association to be established by the Woman's National Civic Federation proposes to charge interest not exceeding from 4 to 6 per cent on every variety of money advance. Among those interested in the enterprise are Miss Anna Morgan, daughter of J. Pierpont Morgan; Mrs. Horace Brock of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Wickorham, wife of the Attorney General, who is national chairman of the federation.

DR. LEITH NOT LOST AS WAS REPORTED

Geologist at University Writes He Is Safe and Will Return Home Soon.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Madison, Wis., Oct. 23.—That Dr. C. K. Leith, geologist of the University of Wisconsin, who for several months has been in the Hudson bay country on a commercial expedition, and who was believed to have been lost in the far north, is safe and should arrive in Madison within a few weeks, was learned today. His wife, who has been worried about his safety, has received a letter saying that he has been delayed by adverse winds while sailing on Hudson bay with several natives.

SPANISH CABINET'S PACIFICATION POLICY

Will Be More Liberal in Their Policy and Seek to Enforce the Law.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Madrid, Oct. 23.—The cabinet was in session four hours last night and following its adjournment a communication was issued announcing that the cabinet proposed to follow a policy of pacification and more liberal. It is understood that among the specific decisions arrived at was one to submit the religious orders engaged in industries to the operations of the common law.

ENDORSES PLANS FOR COMMISSION

F. H. JACKMAN WRITES HIS VIEWS ON THE PROPOSITION.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Step in Right Direction—Would Take Civic Affairs Out of Politics.

That the citizens of Janesville are interested in the rule of cities by the commission form of government is evidenced by the talk that the explanations and letters on this subject, published in the Gazette, have created. It appears to all taxpayers as a solution of the perplexing question of how to economically conduct a city's business and yet obtain the best results.

Wherever tried it has proven a success. Better street improvements have followed on a more economical basis and the affairs of the city have been run on a strictly business basis with no waste or unnecessary expense.

The Wisconsin legislature has enacted a law which would give Janesville the right to adopt this form of government if the voters so desire. There appears to be a strong sentiment in favor of doing this, the demand coming from all classes. Both democrats and republicans have endorsed the project and it is possible that something definite may come from the proposed movement in this direction. Believing that it is a popular question the Gazette would be glad to hear from the citizens generally on the subject.

While the editorial columns are for the use of the policy of the paper the news columns are thrown open to the public and communications on this subject will be received with pleasure whether for or against the measure. It is only by an open discussion that the "pros" and "cons" of the matter can be threshed out.

Yesterday the Gazette published a letter from Senator John M. Whitehead on the subject, and today a similar letter is published, written by F. H. Jackman, in which he endorses the movement most heartily. His letter is as follows:

Oct. 22, 1909.
Editor of the Gazette,
Janesville, Wis.

Dear Sir: I heartily approve of the movement to put our city under the new commission plan of government. Our present city government unless altered and a change which promotes improvement will be generally welcomed.

Our city officials do as well as they can, hampered by the system or lack of system under which they are forced to work; they are as efficient as conditions will permit.

The American plan of municipal government the country over, in large cities and small, is notoriously a failure, and some plan of commission rule is arousing interest in every state.

It is a success where it has been tried and it places the power in responsible hands and holds them responsible for the results. It gives the mayor and councilmen under our law a long enough term to allow them to become proficient in their work and does not force them to go to the voters every two years for endorsement. It will make our officials somewhat independent.

It removes city affairs from politics and city officials will be elected on their merits rather than aided or hindered by the label, "Republican" or "Democrat."

It removes ward lines and interests the councilmen in the whole city and does not narrow their vision to their ward boundaries.

The whole question is one of dollars and cents and I am convinced that the $6,500 in additional salaries could easily be saved to the taxpayers by the commission; further than this whether there is a saving in actual cost or there should be greater value for money expended and the gain in efficiency should be apparent.

Three citizens of only average ability, well paid, devoting their whole time to this work, should get results like those required of the managers of large private corporations whose annual expenditures amount to $150,000.

The new law does not require that the commissioners be residents of the city and it is hoped that professional commissioners will develop whose success in the smaller cities will result in their promotion to larger ones. Should this come about the condition would be an ideal one.

I can see nothing but improvement in this new plan and hope that the voters, when given the opportunity, will see fit to give it a trial.

Yours respectfully,
F. H. JACKMAN.

ANOTHER SWITCH ENGINE
WILL BE PUT IN SERVICE

Six Switch Engines Now Being Used in Janesville—Day Engine Crews Working Over Time.

Another day switch engine will be put into service at the new yards tomorrow. This will bring the number of switch engine crews up to six, four during the day and two at night. The engine to be used, the 1296, was brought up from Chicago last night by Engineer Onfield. The job will be taken by the extra board until filled by bulletin.

During the past week it has been necessary for those working in the yards to put in over time. The crew of the six a. m. switch engine put in sixteen hours yesterday and expect to work over again tonight. Although the rush means big pay envelopes, the men are more than ready to hit the hay when their time is up. In spite of the extra engines that have been put on, the number of cars in the yards does not seem to decrease. There were 1750 in the yards this morning and more coming in constantly. To take care of the out-going trains there were three Wisconsin and one Northern Wisconsin Division engine crews at the yards but no engines. On the Madison Division, the supply of cabooses has run out and several of the north bound extras have had passenger coaches on the rear end.

Among the vacant positions for engineers posted on the last Madison Division bulletin are runs 516, 510 and 515 between Baraboo, Elroy and Chicago, vacated by Engineer T. H. Sholek, who has been given runs 93, 94, 97, 98, and 21 and 22 between Janesville, Beloit and Watertown, in place of Engineer Kelly. Engineer Sullivan has been given runs 528 and 529 between Madison and Chicago in place of Engineer Frank Parcell and his place on the passenger swing engine is open for application. The freight's place on runs 516, 515 and 510 is also open for application as Fireman Schlenker has been transferred.

The Northern Wisconsin division has just issued a complete list of all engineers and firemen on that division, arranged in order of their age, the oldest engineer in point of service heading the list.

Engineer Starratt and Fireman Uman went south on an extra stock train last night at 10 o'clock on account of pool crews resting.

Engineer Rooney of the regular swing crew took Engineer Crowley's place on 300 yesterday. Crowley, who had been relieving Engineer Manning, is on the board.

Engineer White went out on 538 this morning. Fireman Coon, who has been on with Engineer Spohn, went on the board and is writing his ninety day examination today.

Engineer Cole is relieving Engineer Walsh on 544.

Fireman Walters, who is working in the south end pool, has been following it all summer, and has made a very favorable impression with every engineer with whom he has worked.

Engineer James Wilson took Cole's place on the 5:00 p. m. switch-engine last night.

Engineer Ryerson, with engine 478, took a full train of thirty-seven cars of potatoes south at three o'clock yesterday afternoon.

As the Podunk Weekly Times would put it, our genial call boy, Will McDonald, is sporting a new billow-colored overcoat today. Look out girls, Willie is a triller, as well as a box car artist.

Two sections of 517 were run this noon, one of them being a train load of potatoes.

Engineer Milwaukee and St. Paul. Engineer Kinnunen and Fireman Blain took 91 out this morning at 9 o'clock with engine 844.

Engineer Mead and Fireman Rao have engine 845 switching sugar beet cars today.

Engineer Barker and Fireman Dooley went west with an extra at 11:30 this morning with engine 1752.

Engineer Falter and Fireman Shert double-headed Engineer Tuttle on 330 this morning with engine 1344.

Engineer Kounnuch and Dan Warden took engine 1379 to Broadhead last night at 7:20 and double-headed back this morning with engine 1242.

(By Special Correspondent.)

New York City—The fight for mayorality honors in Greater New York is always an interesting spectacle. It is never more so than it is in the present year. Tammany has its admirers and its critics. As a political machine it has no equal. The charges brought against it have been sufficient to bring on a crisis in the present campaign, which is really a fight between the Tammany supporters and those opposed to this gigantic organization.

The Republicans have collected to lead the fight against Tammany a man little known to the political atmosphere of New York City, although he has always been a staunch Republican and has served in minor capacities in the Republican organization. Mr. Bannard is better known to Wall street and the business world than to the political leaders. He is a man of unusual ability, strength, courage, sterling integrity and common sense. He is a loyal son of Yonkers and only last week was announced his gift of $50,000 to this institution.

Mr. Bannard first attracted the attention of the financial world through his work in building the Dolphin Hotel of Patterson, N. J., on their feet. It was then called the Continental Trust company, which for the two years of its existence had gone backward. He not only placed it on a proper basis, but gained for it an excellent reputation that when ex-Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild retired from the New York Security and Trust company the directors of the latter were glad to merge it with the Continental under Bannard and his staff. Thus was formed the New York Trust company of which he is still the head—one of the most substantial companies in the country.

During his active business career, Mr. Bannard has always found time for philanthropic work, not only giving his money, but his personal attention as well. He was one of the founders of the Charity Organization Society. As a man he may be said to possess unusual appreciation of men and deeds rather than money and what it can bring. In accepting the nomination of the Republicans he is sacrificing much of his present and future to what he considers the command of the people. But this is typical of the man. He thinks little of wealth except for the use to which it can be put. He is a lawyer by profession and most of his business life has been spent in reconstructing broken down enterprises.

Opposed to Mr. Bannard is Justice William J. Gaynor, the state supreme court, who is as opposite to Mr. Bannard as can be imagined. Gaynor is a man of unusual strength and earnestness, although it is charged that he is not always stable. He has been justice for nearly 15 years and during this time has made decisions on every side by his courage and lack of tact. He is a fighter from the ground up, a man of strong convictions, but these convictions are quite as apt to turn toward the favoring of a gambler as toward the opposing of him.

Justice Gaynor a few months ago attracted attention through his attack on Chief of Police Bingham for keeping in the rogues' gallery the picture of an unemployed prisoner. This led directly to the ousting of Bingham from the police department, although Bingham himself claims this was but the excuse for deposing him and that back of it all was the fact that he had been opposing Tammany.

Justice Gaynor has been mentioned annually for every office from president of the United States to mayor, but has refused to run except when he was comparatively sure of winning. Last year his nomination for vice president on the Bryan ticket was practically assured until opposition arose at the last moment, which led to the nomination of John W. Kern.

In person Gaynor is short, but well made. His beard, which he always keeps close trimmed, is now white. His eyes are the most remarkable part of his face. They are clear and searching and always aimed directly at yours when you speak to him. He never looks down or sideways and the frostiness of his manner makes the steady gaze of his eyes extremely disconcerting to visitors who are not sure of their ground.

Like him or not he is an extraordinary character, and if he is elected mayor New York will be in for some vigorous and exciting experiences.

The following notice is taken from the Terre Haute Tribune of Oct. 10th, and was on the first page:

A GREAT MUSICAL TREAT.

The people of Terre Haute have never, under any circumstances, had the opportunity to hear such wonderful music as they have now at the Coliseum.

The Sheehan Grand Opera company at the Coliseum last night entertained a large audience composed of music lovers of the city, and all who had the pleasure of hearing them pronounce it the greatest musical treat they have ever had in any city in America.

This is the highest class attraction that will be in Terre Haute this season and the Tribune, unsolicited, takes pleasure in speaking a plain word of praise, and in urging the people to hear this company tonight. Not only is the Sheehan company worthy of your patronage, but every music lover is depriving himself or herself of a musical treat, the like of which they have never before had in Terre Haute.

The Tribune thus urges attendance at this great performance wholly on its own responsibility, and unsolicited by any person, because we believe that every man, woman and child will be vastly pleased, highly entertained, and will get a musical treat such as comes on very rare occasions in a lifetime.

or of a nation is too complex to be predicted with exactness. But—advertising is becoming more and more scientific and less guesswork. It is becoming more and more possible to figure out probabilities. Experience is showing more and more the working of what may be called advertising laws."—Curtis Publishing Company.

Attaining Friends.

The world will value you for what you give. If you invite friends by your manner, and are kind and cordial, you will have them. If you wait for the world to invite you, you will be disappointed.

Immense Production of Soap.
More than $50,000,000 worth of soap is made and sold in the United States every year.

Do You Know

That $750 is the average lawyer's income; $1,400 the average doctor's income; $1,000 the average dentist's income, and that, too, after an investment of from $2000 to $4000 in a college education and at the cost of four of the best years of life?

Now Think of This

It is a poor business man who is not enjoying an annual income of $2000. $5000 is a very common thing. $10,000, $25,000, yes $50,000, are such common incomes in the Business World that mention of the fact causes no comment.

No profession offers such glowing opportunities for success as Business. The big prizes are calling for men and women of red blood, daring and enterprise. There are more $10,000 a year positions than there are $10,000 men and women to fill them. A large Chicago firm recently advertised for six months for a young man with ability to fill a $10,000 a year position. Not a single application was received.

What profession offers such a glowing future to the young man or woman of ability and intelligence as business.

Let us help you seize the opportunities that are being daily offered.

KEEP COLLEGE GIRLS HEALTHY AND STRONG

New Medical Examiner for Women at State University Insists on Training for All—"Every Girl is Responsible for Her Health."

Madison, Wis., Oct. 23.—Over 1,000 women have entered the University of Wisconsin this year, and none will be excused from physical training, so the big gymnasium, the swimming pool, and the game rooms of the new woman's building, Lathrop Hall, will be fully utilized. Heretofore physical training has been compulsory for the freshmen and sophomores alone, who numbered something like 300 last year. This year the new medical examiner for women, Dr. J. H. Dobson, is making a special physical examination of every woman enrolled in university work, and no time is excused in the rule that physical training of some sort must be taken, regardless of former training or of illness or other seeming disability.

No One Excused from Training.
"No woman is too ill or incapacitated to take care of her health," said Dr. Dobson, discussing the plans for physical training for the year. "We expect to take every woman in the university, whether she has ever done any physical work or not, and suit her exercises to her needs. These first weeks I have devoted to the examination of hearts and lungs, chiefly, and I have found but one girl of them all who will not be able to take gymnasium work in some form. The exercise of climbing the hill to classes is all that she can do in the way of physical effort, but even she must conform to instructions I have given her, to increase her health and strength."

To Do Much Corrective Work.
"Every woman in the institution is thus to be held responsible for her physical condition, and will be assisted in taking proper care of her health. We have special apparatus for corrective work which will be installed in a room on the fourth floor of Lathrop Hall, when the suite of three rooms set aside for the purpose is completed. One room will be given to the examination of eyes, ears, nose and throat, since many of the difficulties of students can be traced directly to deficiencies of these organs, many of the headaches and backaches being purely matters of overstrain. A third room will be filled with cots, as a rest room for those who have been taking the special exercises, and will have a bath connected with it."

Wisconsin College Women Healthy.
"We do not get the great deformities here that need plaster jackets and the more strenuous treatments. The class of women who enter university in Wisconsin are far stronger and in better health on the average, than those in the colleges of large cities with more congested districts, such as Philadelphia. The Wisconsin women have strong hearts, their lungs are fuller and better, and they are more used to deep breathing, which, of course, has its effect upon their general health."

Exercise to Balance Mental Work.
"Some of the young women who come to us think that, because they are not sick, and have always had fairly good health, they do not need gymnasium work, and that they will be wasting valuable time that might be put on their books. Many parents, too, seem to think that the aim of the gymnasium is to make Hercules women, to build muscle merely. That is really the last that we are working to give the student the exercise physically that she needs to balance her mental work, to help her to retain the health she brings with her, which would quickly be lost if she confined herself to her studies entirely. Many of the girls who come here, too, though they may be strong and well, have no control physically. They exert an immense amount of energy and strength on little things unnecessarily, and have no reserve or emergency. The woman who can sit out for a car without getting out of breath has not the physical control she needs, nor has the woman who gets a 'sideache' from walking fast, or the one who is tired out from climbing a short hill. We lay far more emphasis on physical control than on physical development."

Gymnasium Well Equipped.
"The gymnasium is to be fully equipped, with all of the regular apparatus for physical training and development, a good running track above and sufficient shower baths, lockers and dressing rooms, to accommodate all the women who will use the gymnasium and swimming pool. In addition there have just been completed four new tennis courts and a women's hockey field, in addition to the three courts west of Lathrop Hall and the outdoor basketball court south of Chubb's Hall. Thus the work of training both in gymnasium activities and in the sports, indoor and outdoor, is well provided for."

Large Experience in Training Women.
In appointing Dr. Dobson to the newly created post of medical examiner of women, the regents of the university added very materially to the strength of the department of physical training. Although it has been impossible to give the girls of the student body the close supervision and constant opportunity for medical advice and assistance which, in many cases, was necessary. Now, however, every girl in the university is given such attention by a graduate physician of large experience in both hospital and gymnasium work."

Dr. Dobson graduated from the Sargent School of Physical Education at Springfield, Mass., in 1906, and from the Woman's Medical college in Philadelphia in 1908, where for four years she had been director of the gymnasium. For the past year she has been resident physician in the hospital of that institution, and has also been connected recently with the central dispensary and emergency hospital at Washington, D. C., and the National Forensic Hospital at Home there. For four years she was at the head of the physical training department for the young women in Gallaudet college, Washington.

MILTON.
Milton, Oct. 23.—Dr. L. A. Platts, Jr., of Chicago, was visiting his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Platts, Friday. The son plant returned operations Friday, where there was much re-more there was light in the dark places.

L. L. Rundsville of the University of Wisconsin, spent Saturday and Sunday here. "Bobby" finds Milton an attractive place.
Mrs. J. H. Burdick left yesterday for Watch Hill, R. I., to visit her grandfather and other relatives.
Mrs. B. H. Welch of Oakland, Cal., and Mrs. Johnson of Barlow, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clem W. Crumb.

EDGERTON GIANTS VS. JANESVILLE, SUNDAY

Ward's Trolley League Nine to Play
Tobacco City Champions There
Tomorrow.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Edgerton, Wis., Oct. 23.—The most important game of baseball of the season is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, Oct. 24, at Athletic park, between the Janesville Trolley League team and the Edgerton Giants. The Janesville team have been playing great ball this season and if the Giants are not beaten this time they will be styled "Invincible." This will be the last game of the Giants this season.

CLINTON.
Clinton, Oct. 23.—Sanford M. Wright has moved from the Hillman house to the rear rooms in the fireman's building.
Miss Ethel Pangborn is home from an extended trip through the west.
Mrs. J. Brand and mother, Mrs. J. DeWolfe, left Thursday for Syracuse, N. Y. They will be joined in Chicago by Mrs. George Williams and Mrs. DeKoffa will visit a sister whom she has not seen in almost 60 years.

Mrs. J. C. Russell went to Preppert Thursday to see her sister, who was injured by a fall.
Mrs. J. C. Clue recently had about 50 chickens stolen.
Robert Johnson of Watworth is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Babcock.

Work was commenced today on the new drinking fountain, the second one to be installed. It will be located in front of the Y. M. C. A. stairway in the Drake block. Will Ellithorpe has taken the contract to dig the waste drain ditch under the entire length of the Drake block to an old well at the rear of the lot, a decidedly hard piece of work.

Mrs. John R. Holmer and Mrs. Flora Dickerman entertain about eighty ladies at a 6 o'clock tea Thursday evening, Oct. 28, at the home of Mrs. Dickerman.

Rev. Clyde McGee and Clarence Crowder returned from the convention of the Congregational Brotherhood at Minneapolis Monday morning. Mr. McGee will give a talk on brotherhood and the convention Sunday evening. Chorister Mrs. Alice Inman with her customary energy is drilling a chorus choir of men only. The meeting promises to be very interesting. Everyone is welcome and all men, especially, are urged to attend.

Now cement walks are still going in, new ones being put in on Milwaukee street in front of J. A. Ames' place, the old cobble stone place and the J. C. Howarth place, and W. F. Bruce will put in one more on Duane street in front of his home and that of Dr. Hollister.

Attorney E. D. McGowan of Janesville was in town on legal business Thursday.
Several of our business men have been subpoenaed on the Meloy will contest case. Public sentiment is decidedly in favor of Mrs. Meloy.
The funeral of William Hahn Thursday was one of the most largely attended of any ever held in Clinton, a fitting tribute to a very lovable man.
Chas. McCannons expects to go to Milwaukee Nov. 1st to enter a commercial school.

A. W. Strong and wife consulted a specialist Wednesday about Mrs. Strong's eyes, which are very bad. The sight of one eye is entirely gone and it takes the strongest cause for the other eye to enable her to see at all. She has the sympathy of her many friends in her affliction.
Chas. Volkmann, Jr., of Tomah arrived Friday evening to visit his parents and friends for several days.

To take all national baseball team to Coast.
F. A. Bancroft business manager of the Cincinnati Reds.
New York.—Frank C. Bancroft, who is to act as business manager for a baseball team that will play exhibition games with the Philadelphia Americans on a tour extending from New York to San Francisco, announced today the makeup of his combination, which will be known as the "All-Nationals." Its pitchers are Johnson of Washington, Marquand of the New York Nationals, Curtis of the Boston Nationals and Moore of the Philadelphia Nationals; catchers, Myers of the New York Nationals and Hibs of St. Louis Nationals; infielders, Knecht of St. Louis Nationals, Dohy of New York Nationals, Lennox of Brooklyn and Esau of Cincinnati Nationals; outfielders, Descher of Cincinnati Nationals, of Brooklyn and Ellis of St. Louis Nationals.

Students of the New York National his will make the trip as substitute catcher and infielder. The first game will be played in Chicago, October 19. The schedule calls for four weeks of play in San Francisco.

Lancroft is a veteran in the baseball game. For years he has been business manager of the Cincinnati Nationals and before this has taken many teams barnstorming.

NEW GLARUS.
New Glarus, Oct. 23.—Molchior and J. M. Schindler went out to the Dakotas where they intend to register for a homestead.

Thomas and T. C. Herty transacted business in Chicago and Milwaukee, Friday and Saturday.
Messieurs John R. Durol, Ed. Durol and Fred Strick were at Janesville last Saturday.
A dance has been billed for the married folks on Nov. 6th at Ginner's hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Voegell of Beloit spent Sunday here with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. John Wiesen of Dayton were here last Sunday.
Quite a number of our sportsmen went out hunting last Sunday, returning with good bags of game.

Mrs. J. H. Durol spent Monday at Monroe with relatives.
Josephine Leitinger was brought before a justice of the peace for taking a horse, which he alleged was by mistake. He was sentenced to sixty days on the rock pile at Monroe.

David Loger and Rudy Kunder went to Monroe on Monday last to serve as jurors.
Peter Hooley has moved from his farm to his new house in the south part of town.

R. H. Luchinger went to the Dakotas on Wednesday, where he intends to register for a homestead.
Henry Luchinger went to Preppert on Wednesday where he will receive medical aid. He was accompanied by his wife.

Jacob Frick, Sam Durol and John Thiller were at Madison last Thursday.
Scores from the Swiss Rifle club from Switzerland have been received by our rifle club here. These scores were made in competition between their team and ours, in which our team was victorious.

Albert Schlatter and Henry Schmidt were at Madison yesterday.
Miss Grace Stafford and Mrs. Anna Ratcliff of Edgerton are here visiting with friends.
Mrs. R. E. Bartlett went to Albany yesterday.

Rabbits Mothered by Collie.
A family of young rabbits are sharing the kennel of a collie puppy at Eucharoon, New South Wales. They were unearthed from their burrow by a kangaroo dog, but a collie intervened and, driving the other dog off, carried them to her kennel. There she is tending them as carefully as she does her own offspring.

AMERICAN NAVY INSTALLING WIRELESS WITH RECORD RANGE OF 3,000 MILES.

New York.—Both the scout cruisers Birmingham and Salem are being fitted out at the Charlestown navy yard with what is claimed to be the most powerful wireless system yet devised.
Work on the ships has been carried on with much secrecy that the purpose of the new mechanism being installed has not been made known even to the men employed in its construction.
The instruments will send and receive messages 3,000 miles under favorable conditions and are so powerful that it is necessary to reconstruct several portions of the new ships in order to support the larger spread of wires and the powerful current needed.

"You Can't Afford to Heat All Out Doors"

Yet that's what you seem to be trying to do when your boiler sends most of the heat up the chimney.
In early boiler construction for Hot Water or Low Pressure Steam this was one of the chief troubles. More of the heat escaped out doors than was kept in the house. Some boilers that yet show crude, old time ideas have this fault.
That's why we say to you, Investigate the heat question before you buy! If your boiler doesn't save the heat, you lose more than the comfort of a properly heated home. You lose fuel—tons of it—at a frightful expense.

Go want you to investigate thoroughly Capital Boilers for Hot Water and Low Pressure Steam. When you see the illustrations of the inside and outside of a Capital Boiler (or better still the boiler itself) you will get rid of the idea that Hot Water or Steam Heating is some thing that only an expert can understand. AMERICAN NAVY INSTALLING WIRELESS WITH RECORD RANGE OF 3,000 MILES.

New York.—Both the scout cruisers Birmingham and Salem are being fitted out at the Charlestown navy yard with what is claimed to be the most powerful wireless system yet devised.
Work on the ships has been carried on with much secrecy that the purpose of the new mechanism being installed has not been made known even to the men employed in its construction.
The instruments will send and receive messages 3,000 miles under favorable conditions and are so powerful that it is necessary to reconstruct several portions of the new ships in order to support the larger spread of wires and the powerful current needed.

A Thorough Optometrist at Your Service
You are invited here to have your eyes examined. The services of a competent optometrist are at your command and he can correct every refractive error of the eyes. Glasses—the right kind—will be fitted, if necessary—and at only a moderate charge.
It is well to give this subject of eye-sight serious consideration, and whether or not you may notice any trouble it would be well to have your eyes examined. We will be very glad to do this for you and tell you whether or not your eyes are in perfect condition.

"You Can't Afford to Heat All Out Doors"

Yet that's what you seem to be trying to do when your boiler sends most of the heat up the chimney.
In early boiler construction for Hot Water or Low Pressure Steam this was one of the chief troubles. More of the heat escaped out doors than was kept in the house. Some boilers that yet show crude, old time ideas have this fault.
That's why we say to you, Investigate the heat question before you buy! If your boiler doesn't save the heat, you lose more than the comfort of a properly heated home. You lose fuel—tons of it—at a frightful expense.

Go want you to investigate thoroughly Capital Boilers for Hot Water and Low Pressure Steam. When you see the illustrations of the inside and outside of a Capital Boiler (or better still the boiler itself) you will get rid of the idea that Hot Water or Steam Heating is some thing that only an expert can understand. OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

The Mineral Point bank failure, which has attracted such wide attention during the past ten days, has resulted in the arrest and probable punishment of one official, the tragic death of another, and the closing of an old banking house which for years enjoyed the confidence of the entire community.

The aftermath of this calamity will be far-reaching in results. The old president and his board of directors, while not accused of dishonesty, will experience the full force of public indignation for neglecting to direct, in a crime which never appears on the surface until the unexpected happens, and then excuses and explanations are unavailing.

The loss of money, on the part of small depositors, will also intensify the bitter feeling which came to them as a great shock when the defalcation was first discovered, and which they were slow to believe.

The man whom they had known for a lifetime, and in whom they had implicit confidence, had deserted them. This, after all, is the worst feature of the disaster, for time will help to restore the money losses, and business will soon recover, but confidence is of slow growth, and when destroyed is difficult to restore.

The downfall of character is far-reaching in results and it will never be known just how much the confidence of the country was shaken by the dishonesty of Phil Allen, the man held responsible for the failure.

Allen was a link in the strong chain which holds together the nation's banking system, giving it character and stability. In his case the test of time had so weakened the metal that the link was at the breaking point long before the weakness was discovered. It did not break as the result of unusual strain, just the wear and tear of everyday friction.

So all along the line the chain is being studied, and the great bank of capital known as confidence is experiencing "a run," which although imperceptible is gradually depleting resources. Investors change their plans. Money, always timid, retreats from circulation, and all because one man went wrong.

This network of confidence, which has so much to do with success or failure, is every department of life, is a sacred piece of mechanism, for it touches the mineprings of being, and its warp and wool is of the finest texture.

The loss of confidence means more than the loss of money, and the disappointment and sorrow resulting is worse than bereavement caused by death. Had Phil Allen died with character unimpaired his loss would have been generally mourned and his memory cherished, but today he is hated and despised by his old-time friends and his name a by-word in the community which honored him for so many years with its confidence.

People do not soon recover from this kind of a shock, and its influence is far-reaching. The church comes in for its full share of criticism for harboring a man so destitute of moral principle and the standard of morality suffers on that account.

The history of Allen's downfall will probably never be written. It is safe to say that he did not deliberately plan a dishonest career. The temptation to use money, within easy reach, was so alluring and the prospects for large returns so flattering, that he could not resist, and the habit of speculation, once formed, became so entangling, that he could not break away from it.

Then he became reckless, and while preaching honesty was practicing fraud and deceit of the most barefaced type. The receiver in charge finds the books and accounts so badly demoralized that a public meeting of depositors will be necessary to straighten out the tangle.

One man who held a certificate of deposit for $10,000 and whose interest had been paid regularly has to his credit on the bank's ledger only $100—and so, all through the list, grave discrepancies exist, to say nothing of a lot of paper which bears evidence of forgery.

It is possible for a man to stifle his conscience so long and so persistently that the wrong seems right, and this seems to have been the case with Allen. During his long career of crime his reputation was unimpaired. He seemed the soul of honor and was a loud proclaimer of righteousness. The people believed in him so fully that he represented a monument of goodness and young men were exhorted to copy the model.

Confidence is an attribute of both mind and heart. It lights up with contented smiles the face of the baby when the mother bonds over the cradle, and inspires hope in the heart of the wayfarer on the edge of time, waiting for the boatman.

The child knows nothing of the problems of life for the embryo mind is still dormant and the veteran has passed beyond the zone of activity into a realm where perplexing questions no longer annoy, but from the cradle to the border line confidence has been an abiding presence steady through the life at every turn of the wheel.

"I have confidence in you, my boy," is the message which the father remembers as he struggles to gain a foothold and the memory of the mother as she kisses him good-bye, comes back to cheer him and strengthen purpose and resolution.

He determines not to disappoint his mother, and soon those commences to develop confidence in himself, one of the choicest assets with which any life is endowed, for without it success is not attainable.

Gypsy Smith received a letter yesterday from a young man who heard him preach a few nights ago down in the red light district. It read:

"I am the wandering boy you sang about. My father is a preacher in Louisville, Ky. Just a few days ago I received a letter from my mother asking me to attend the Gypsy Smith meetings. I went to the Alhambra theatre, and you have started life anew for me. I shall not let the night go by without writing to father and mother, and that all is changed for me."

The boy had come to himself and his heart was filled with hope and confidence, and back home, was the father and mother waiting to rejoice with him.

The wealth of the nation is computed in money and land, in stocks and bonds and in the long list of material things known as tangible property. The array of figures is bewildering because they represent so much in value, but they would seem insignificant compared to the value of confidence as a business asset, were it possible to compute it.

Ninety per cent of the world's business is transacted on credit inspired by confidence; when this great asset is impaired panic results and failures follow in rapid succession.

The important lesson of the Mineral Point bank failure is, that confidence is a sacred trust which to betray is a dastardly crime. If the man Allen were the only victim but little sympathy would be extended, but the long list of innocent sufferers impresses the thought that "no man liveth to himself" and calls back the first question to disturb the peace of the first household: "Am I my brother's keeper?"

PRESS COMMENT.

Well, There Are Others.

According to the Record-Herald, Mr. Roosevelt was recently compelled to get behind a tree for the purpose of escaping from an infuriated bull elephant. Some of the people who have been engaged in commerce with the gentleman will regard it as a lucky thing for the elephant that the tree was there.

Sure Thing.

The Chicago Tribune finds evidence that Diaz doubtless hopes to have the pleasure in his official capacity of meeting several more presidents of the United States.

Why So Joyful?

Mr. Lawson's Daily News remarks that in return for what President Taft said of the Oklahoma constitution Senator Gore of that active commonwealth remarks: "The present tour of the president has been a comedy of errors—a tragedy of blunders, Oklahoma is now avenged."

Columbus Got His.

The Milwaukee Free Press forgets that the east and west pole disputes were settled long ago by Columbus when it says: "The Knickerbocker regrets that there isn't a west pole and an east pole, so that there could be more controversies."

Why Not Roosevelt?

While the Sentinel does not suggest it, it is possible that this polar dispute might be decided by Roosevelt. It follows, however, that with the United States taking a hand, this polar controversy may yet have to go to the Hague for settlement.

Still One More.

The Detroit Free Press claims William Crotwell as well as does Janesville, as a former resident, in the following: "The new town of Gary, Ind., incorporated recently in a city, made a great start. They hold a democratic primary immediately and two men were stabbed at the polls and the police were kept busy responding to riot calls. W. C. Crotwell, at one time a bucketshop operator in Detroit, later mayor of Detroit, secured the nomination. As usual in primary elections, his opponent will run independently.

Seems So.

The Houston Post says that Dr. Cook appears to have a wife with a cranium lined with the inside with a very high order of brains.

He Didn't Know.

"Puck" has to say that Theodore took the trouble to go to Africa to look, when he could have had just as much sport in the arctic regions discovering the pole in the bargain.

Perhaps Not.

The Cleveland Leader is doubting it says: "We don't believe there's any such place as Etah. Somebody suggested that we spell it backward, and since then we have been thinking—thinking."

What Is This?

The Washington Star says: "The assertion of Mr. Wu that the Chinese discovered the north pole thousands of years ago shows how terrible the temptation is for a bystander to mix into a dispute."

I'm weary now of Sherlock Holmes, and all the initiative crew; I'm tired of triumphs built upon a collar button, as a clue. The sleuth is always tall and thin, with nervous hands and hawklike face; he scours the slums or moves around in marble halls, with equal grace; he always takes some kind of dope or plays the flute or violin, and when he's billed for active work he gives false answers on his chin. He always has a Watson near, a thrasonic chimp, who sits and broods, the while the selling-plat or sleuth reels off a string of statistics. Detective yarns are all so stale. The plot is evermore the same; we always have the murdered man with knives or bullets in his frame; the pantry window is unlocked; the safe's been opened with a thin suspicion shifts until it rests on every man within a mile; the local peepers blunder around, and ball things up in frightful shape, and then the Great Detective comes, with long and "rude" and "mysterious" talk; he crawls around upon the floor, examines all the water mains, and tastes the ashes in the stove, and sticks his nose into the drains, and then he says the problem's solved; forthwith he spends two weeks or more in showing Watson and the world how easy 'tis to be a bore!

FAST TRAVELING.

How much would you guess does the eighteen hour train between New York and Chicago weigh in pounds?

Each train weighs 1,250,000 pounds.

Each train carries seventy-five passengers, who weigh, all told, 22,500 pounds—that is to say, each train weighs 100 times as much as its passengers. And it costs each passenger 25 cents a pound to be transported from one city to the other.

Why, must the train be so heavy?

Simply in order to get sufficient friction on the rails and equilibrium for the big driving wheels of the locomotives.

And the faster a train goes the heavier it must weigh—if it stays on the track.

The eighteen hour train goes as fast as it can go with safety using present equipment, so that if greater speed is desired there must be a change in track and train.

But men are not satisfied to spend eighteen hours in getting between New York and Chicago. They want a quicker way.

A bright ideal.

Why not put wings to the train?

And that is just what a New York inventor is working at. The wings he proposes are formed by aeroplanes made after the style of the Wright brothers' flying machine. The trains are trolley style, and the aeroplanes are above each car.

The lifting power of an aeroplane is enormous, so that when the car gets up speed the aeroplane assumes a part of the load. The inventor figures when the train gets to going, say, 150 miles an hour the train will weigh practically nothing.

Whether the New York inventor is successful or not, it may be safely predicted that in the near future men will travel by rail 150 to 200 miles an hour. Which leads one to ask, Where do all such modern inventions lead?

Is the world really better because of the multiplication of appliances for greater speed in transportation, greater facility in manufacturing, a larger saving in human labor?

Yes!

Each saving in human labor means that much leisure for human improvement. Every increase in the facilities for quick transportation and the dissemination of intelligence means the bringing of the world's peoples closer together and the fostering of human brotherhood.

There is no call to be frightened at the progress of material things.

The world of human affairs is not headed toward some blind thoroughfare.

The folks at your table are the ones to judge what bread should be set before them.

Give them a chance to vote. If you are still serving home-baked bread alternate once with Yankee Bread.

The home-baked bread will be heavy and soggy, because of dry heat. Yankee Bread will be light, sweet and moist.

The home-baked bread will ferment, and form gas, because they haven't had half heat enough.

Yankee Bread will digest easily because each loaf has been baked in live steam at a temperature of 340 degrees.

Let your people choose and be glad of their choice.

This is worth your while for Yankee Bread is the choicest kind of food.

It contains more food than the choicest beef and does not cost a third as much.

When you serve the bread that your people will like they will eat it in place of meat.

You will find we are right in all the pains that we take to create this delicious bread.

All grocers have Yankee Bread or you can get it from our wagons which pass your house every day, for 5c a loaf, although it is worth more because it is larger and three times as good as any other bread.

THEATRE

Perhaps one of the greatest comedy successes known in years and especially on critical Broadway, New York, is that of Clyde Fitch's pretty play, "Girls," which Sam B. and Leo Shubert produced at Daly's theatre, where it ran for nearly an entire season, and now in its original form is on tour. "Girls" is notable for its nearness to everyday life. In brief, it tells the story of three girls out of work; Pamela Gordon, Violet Lane, and Kate West—stenographer, illustrator and free lance writer, respectively. Pamela is a most advanced type of manipulator and soon she drives into the others the firm impression that more than is worth it; indeed, a sort of nuisance. They form the anti-man club and sing as their national anthem, "No Wedding Bells for Me," before retiring each night, then take a solemn oath with hat pins crossed to have nothing to do with man. The characters, besides the ones named above, embrace a kiddy, gushing, elocutionist, who seeks rather than avoids men; a woman-hating law clerk; a frivolous young wife, who is looking for a divorce from her husband; a tyrannical and never sober father; a young while leading tenor with Henry W. Savage being well remembered, as well as his Chicago triumphs. In addition will be seen a company of associate artists world-famous, in-including Miss Julia Hume, who last season scored a hit with Oscar Hammerstein's Manhattan company; Frank A. Prosch, for six years leading baritone with the London Royal Opera company; George Crampton, last season leading basso with the famous Carl Rosa company in England; Miss Louise La Buren, said to be without peer in impersonation characterization and who was formerly associated with Miss Fritz Scher and the Boston Castle Square Opera company; Miss Gladys Caldwell, prima donna soprano who for two years set Chicago wild, press and public; and a score of others of equal prominence in addition to the famous Metropolitan chorus and orchestra numbering more than fifty.

Senator Gallinger's Son Dead.

New York, Oct. 23.—William Gallinger, eldest son of United States Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, fell dead last night in a bedroom in the apartment of his cousin, Mrs. A. E. Johnstone, of heart disease. Gallinger, who was 39 years old, recently arrived in New York with his father from a trip abroad.

A man who has made considerable money in selling books gives his three essentials of success as follows: 1st. A bargain (or what appears to be one). 2nd. A hurry up call. 3rd. Enough money to tell the story in a broadcast way. It is useless to add that he is constantly looking for new schemes, new customers, and does not do a repeat business.

The Corset Event of the Season

Next week will be given over entirely to our Fall Corset Opening. As a line which is notable for the scope and class of the corsets shown, there are none that we can recommend in the unqualified terms that we do

THE Gossard CORSETS

"They Lace In Front"

An expert corsetiere, trained in the Gossard "New School" of corset design, will be in attendance to show the superior features of Gossard front-laced corsets.

We extend a cordial invitation to every woman who is interested in the corset styles for Fall, to meet Mrs. E. B. Diltz and discuss the corset question with her. If, in the past, you have had any doubts as to the corset which would do the most for your figure, a fitting with one of the Gossard models will put them to rest.

If you have never worn a Gossard you have yet to learn what the perfect corset union of beauty and hygiene means to the wearer.

There is a model for YOU. Exactly right for YOU. Be fitted to it and you will be delighted with the results. Gossard corsets give the supple figure and the long, lithe lines demanded by the season's fashions. They support instead of depressing the abdominal organs, that is why physicians recommend them. They impart the classic, sculptured back. Anyone who knows the Gossard corset can tell the Gossard wearer by the back, at a glance.

The front-lacing is convenient and sensible. You can stand before your mirror and adjust your corset while you are putting it on.

This season's Gossard models are the product of the "New School of corset design," which means that every seam, gore and bone is adjusted with that precision which is necessary in adjusting the balance wheel of a fine watch.

Gossard corsets are made of the finest materials. Every detail is as nearly perfect as human ingenuity will permit. The materials are selected with great care for their textile strength and the Gossard corset will outwear two or three ordinary corsets.

All Gossard corsets are boned with "ELECTROBONE" the basis of which is the highest quality high-carbon, non-breakable, clock-spring steel, perfectly flat and resilient; guaranteed rustproof, and the best boning material used in corsets at any price.

Although Mrs. E. B. Diltz will be here all next week, we advise you to come Monday if you possibly can

SEVEN KILLED IN A WRECK

MEMBERS OF TRAIN CREW ARE PINNED UNDER WRECK.

SCORE OF PERSONS INJURED

Fast Pennsylvania Passenger Hits
Freight Near Collinsville, O.—None of the Passengers Meet Death But Number Are Hurt in Smoker.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 23.—Seven persons were killed and a score injured in a wreck on the Panhandle division of the Pennsylvania railroad at Collinsville, O., when south-bound passenger train No. 12 ran into a freight train on an open siding.

No. 12, which is one of the fast trains of the division, was making 50 miles an hour when Engineer Brown, the hero of the catastrophe, evidently realized the danger. As his engine left the main line, darting with almost unchecked speed into the freight, Brown applied the brakes and in a measure checked the terrific momentum. Brown was unable to save himself, but it is certain that the passengers, especially those in the first coach, owe their lives to his heroism.

The killed: E. G. Webb, Richmond, fireman, arm torn off, crushed. Unidentified tramp. C. A. Johnson, Eaton, O., mail clerk, found under mail car. C. O. Ralnes, Kokomo, Ind., mail clerk, cut to pieces.

Lewis Marshall, Richmond, Ind., engineer of freight train. R. H. Hatfield, Greensfork, Ind., mail clerk, death due to burns and cuts.

Elmer Brown, Logansport, Ind., passenger engineer, cut and scalded. Engines Completely Wrecked.

Six persons were killed, and a number injured in a head-on collision which took place at Collinsville, O., about twenty-five miles southeast of Richmond on the Pennsylvania railroad. The train wrecked was the flyer from Chicago to Cincinnati, No. 12, which leaves here about four o'clock. The train which was going at the rate of 50 miles an hour ran into an open switch on to a siding, colliding head-on with freight No. 75. The impact was so great that both engines were completely wrecked, freight cars were strewn along the road and smashed into fragments. The mail car was completely wrecked, being telescoped with the baggage car, the express car and the smoker were derailed.

In the smoker there were fifteen or twenty who were slightly injured. A special train was hurried from Richmond to the scene.

According to reports reaching here the switch was open and the passenger and freight train collided head-on.

Passengers Escape Death. None of the passengers was killed, but several men in the smoking car were injured. One woman, carrying a child, was so severely injured that she was taken to a hospital. Her identity has not been learned.

Scenes of horror and suffering followed the crash. Webb, the fireman, and Ralnes, the mail clerk, were the only ones of the dead not killed instantly. They were pinned under the wreckage and lived for several minutes. They died before the timbers which held them could be removed.

SEEK WALSH'S IMPRISONMENT

Federal Authorities Ask for Mandate to Send Him to Prison.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—John R. Walsh, convicted banker, may be taken to Fort Leavenworth federal prison within a few days if the plans of the government attorneys are sustained.

District Attorney Sims and Attorney John B. Miller, representing Walsh, appeared in the circuit court of appeals to argue the question of the $50,000 bonds on which Walsh is now at liberty.

Mr. Sims urged that this bond be set aside and that a mandate be issued at once ordering Walsh to be taken to the federal prison.

Attorney Miller urged that the present bonds be ordered to hold until the question of an appeal to the supreme court was decided.

Final arguments on the point will be heard within a few days. If Mr. Sims is sustained Mr. Walsh may be taken to Fort Leavenworth.

The action was begun by John S. Miller, chief counsel for the convicted president of the defunct Chicago National bank and the Equitable trust company. After the proceedings Mr. Miller admitted that the Walsh case would be carried to the supreme court on a writ of certiorari.

District Attorney Sims and Assistant District Attorney Childs were present with Mr. Miller at the secret session. Neither would reveal what transpired in court. Attorney Miller took the same position.

"It would be unprofessional for me to make public my plans before they are consummated," said Mr. Walsh's lawyer. "I will admit, however, that I have the petition praying for a rehearing of the Walsh case ready for the supreme court."

Bissett Is Found Guilty.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—George Bissett, who shot and killed Detective Sergeant William J. Russell in a saloon adjoining the city hall on the night of June 12, was found guilty of murder by a jury in the criminal court and his punishment fixed at life imprisonment.

QUAKES SHAKE SICILY; VESUVIUS IN ERUPTION

Disturbance Was Predicted by an American—Twenty-Five Killed in India.

Messina, Sicily, Oct. 23.—The renewed activity of Mount Vesuvius and the earth shocks felt near Mount Etna, have caused considerable alarm here. The fact that Frank A. Perret, the American scientist, had predicted seismic disturbances does not decrease the uneasiness in the land.

Mr. Perret was in this city during the last week of September and at that time pointed out that September 23 would be a date favorable for earthquakes and volcanic eruptions because the sun, the earth and the moon would be in line, a combination tending to produce a gravitational distortion of the earth's form. Mr. Perret added that if nothing out of the ordinary occurred, as proved to be the case, it would mean that the earth had resisted the unusual pressure, but that telluric convulsions probably would be experienced in the latter half of October.

Naples, Italy, Oct. 23.—The eruption of Mount Vesuvius, which became alarmingly active, seems to be decreasing. Villages near the volcano are filled with strangers, mostly foreigners, who hastened there to see the phenomenon.

Simala, British India, Oct. 23.—Twenty-five persons were killed and a score of others injured in recent earthquake shocks at Belpat, a small town on the Quetta railroad, in the central part of Beluchistan. The railway station and several residences adjoining were razed.

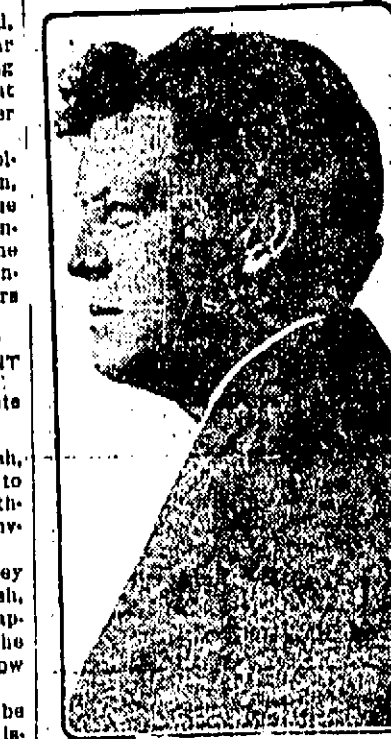

PRONOUNCES DEAD MAN A FRAUD

Bay City Man Claims He Is Schlatter, the "Healer."

Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 23.—Conducting only a little class, and inviting no publicity at all, a man claiming to be Francis Schlatter, divine healer, and having the necessary credentials, is living here in Battle Creek in comparative seclusion. When he and his wife, also a healer, heard of the news of the death of Charles M. McLain, in Hastings, Neb., they announced their presence in the city here in a quiet way.

Schlatter, whose cures in Denver, and other parts of the country gained him some notoriety and fame several years ago, claims that McLain, whose death occurred recently, obtained a suitcase of newspaper clippings in a hotel in Clinton, Ia., where it was left in the care of the proprietor. From that time on, McLain, the man here claiming to be Schlatter, has caused no end of trouble.

Powers Quiz Russia. St. Petersburg, Oct. 23.—A rumor is in circulation here to the effect that the powers have addressed a joint note to Russia with regard to Manchurian affairs.

Colonel D. C. Collier.

San Diego, Cal.—Col. D. C. Collier is always an enthusiast, always boasting. It is such men as he who have made the remarkable growth of the west possible. He is a type of the new westerner and is representative of the spirit which is dominating the Panama-California exposition to be held in San Diego in 1915.

As a member of the governor's staff, Colonel Collier is identified with the promotion interests of the southwest, and as managing director of the Panama-California exposition he is enthusiastic in his belief that the opening of the Panama canal will make of San Diego one of the great seaports of the Pacific. The 21 businessmen of San Diego who compose the directorate have considered every possibility that tends toward development of the extreme southwest, he says, and with the prevailing increase in the rate of population he predicts that the San Diego fair will stand for many years as a record in rapid progress.

"Picture 1,400 acres of the city park, banked and terraced by expert landscape artists, overlooking the white sands of the harbor and the blue water of the bay," said Colonel Collier. "We have come to worry about the financial part of our undertaking; we are individually entitled of a growth in population that will make it practicable and we want no better advertisement than the invitation to visit the land where winter finds no place in the calendar."

Gout Defined. "What is gout?" asks a correspondent. Well, it is an affliction it inherited, but is often a source of pride when acquired.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

PERISH IN DESERT; A PITIFUL STORY

FAMILY OF FIVE DIE FROM THIRST ON MOJAVE
SANDS.

TRACKS REVEAL A TRAGEDY

Wagon, Buggy and Farming Horse
Found by Ranchmen and Searchers Are Sent Out in Race Against Death.

San Bernardino, Cal., Oct. 23.—A family of five consisting of a man, his wife and three children, are believed to be either dead or dying from thirst somewhere along the ancient trails of the Mojave desert. Who they are or what led them to cross that barren waste is not known, but their trail has revealed a pitiful story, and searching parties are out searching for them in a race against death.

Tracks Noticed by Ranchman.

T. H. Kellogg, a rancher, was riding over the Carlsbad creek country yesterday when he came across the tracks of two teams. The trails indicated to his experienced eye that the drivers were lost. He followed the trail for some distance and came up with a camp wagon and a buggy and farther away a horse dying of thirst.

Pressing on he discovered the tracks of a man and a woman and three children. Uneven at times, retreating and wavering, as though the travelers did not know which way to turn, the footprints on the sand told of the search for water against a desperately growing need.

Carried the Dying Children.

Sometimes the trail of one or the other children disappeared, indicating that the father or the mother had carried their dying offspring. The tracks followed the bed of a dry creek for miles, and then led to the country from which few travelers return.

Kellogg returned to civilization, and searching parties were sent out, but no word from them has been received.

TAFT IS PRAISED BY W. C. T. U.

President Stevens in Annual Message

Pays Tribute to Chief Executive.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 23.—In her annual report to the W. C. T. U. convention, Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens, national president of the organization, praised President Taft for his stand on the temperance question and reviewed the action of corporations throughout the country which placed a ban on the employment of persons addicted to the use of liquor. Mrs. Stevens said:

"There have been many similar demonstrations during the year by organizations and prominent individuals, the latest and most notable being that of Mr. Taft, who soon after his election as president of the United States, at a banquet turned his wife's glass down and said it would ever remain so, and in harmony with this action and through his request no liquors were served at the inaugural ball at Washington."

"For Mr. Taft to set the example of total abstinence is cause for great rejoicing by those who care for humanity's weal. It is an example safe and beneficial for all to follow. Mr. Taft is entitled to grateful thanks and appreciation of a thrice grateful nation."

The report says the national convention was brought to Omaha with a view to securing in this state a statewide prohibition law.

MEN FALL 40 FEET TO DEATH

Heavy Stone Strikes Platform Upon Which They Were Standing.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Carl A. Mueller, a well-known North side contractor, and John Zelev, who was employed by him, were killed when they were hurled from a scaffold of a building in course of construction. The two men were standing on the temporary platform, about 40 feet above the ground, while a heavy stone was being hoisted to the top of the structure. Workmen were in the act of guiding the stone to place it in position on the wall. When it struck a projecting stone in the wall the stone was jarred loose, and it crashed to the ground, taking with it the two victims and the scaffold.

WELLS-FARGO CO. LOSE $5,000.

Office at Springfield Is Robbed—Two Drivers Are Bought.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 23.—Robbery of the office of the Wells-Fargo Express Company in this city was reported to the police department after detectives for the company had devoted a day to an unsuccessful hunt for burglars. The booty is said to exceed $5,000. The combination of the safe had been worked, showing that the burglars were familiar with the surroundings. Springfield police sent messages to a number of cities asking for the arrest of Percy Smith and S. Hamilton Gaston, drivers for the company, who disappeared the night of the robbery.

Storm Kills One, Hurts Eight.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 23.—Karl Kouhendorf was fatally injured and seven other workmen seriously hurt when a windstorm blew in a wall at the Illinois Traction system shops. Much small property damage was done, both in the city and country.

M. J. Doherty Drops Dead.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Michael J. Doherty, superintendent of streets of Chicago since 1894, died suddenly, supposedly of apoplexy, last evening in his home.

FORBES ROBERTSEN.

London—Mr. Forbes Robertsen stands out as a most unique figure on the stage today. Just as Sir Henry Irving stood supreme, so Mr. Forbes Robertsen is regarded by many as Irving's successor. In comparing the two there are many points of similarity. Temperament, ambition, intellectuality, individuality, and even, to some extent, personal appearance, mark these two remarkable actors as of the same school.

Forbes Robertsen is now 56 years old, but he possesses the temperament of youth, is active, vigorous and eager. He lacks Irving's supreme tragic sensibility of countenance, but he stands pre-eminent in England as a promoter of the advanced idea in drama of plays that are more than pictorial in their appeal of acting that is the art of realism.

Mr. Robertsen has been on the stage for thirty-five years. He intended to be a painter, but on account of reverses in fortune, he was forced to engage in the theatre, where his natural charm and resonant voice met with instant success.

An African Story.

1. Once when a certain famous hunter, now in Africa, was lying in ambush for game he saw a terrified native crouching in the jungle pursued by another savage armed with a long dagger. 2. Suddenly the fugitive dropped to his knees and assumed an attitude of supplication, the pursuer crouching around him with uplifted dagger in menacing glee. 3. Hoping to avert a terrible tragedy, the hidden hunter arose from his concealment and in a twinkling had commanded the assailant to throw up his hands. 4. But tragedy was turned into comedy when he learned that they were members of the "Royal Central African Dramatic Company" and were only rehearsing "Julius Caesar" for a special matinee to be given in honor of the great hunter himself.

Commonwealth Ladies' Orchestra, of Boston,
October 25th. Unique--Harmonious--Entrancing

This is the most experienced, well-balanced successful ladies' orchestra you will ever have a chance to hear. This unique group of lady musicians is gathered under the direction of Mr. Ashton Lewis and is picked from the famous old Bostonian Ladies' Orchestra that scored such triumphs in recent years.

THREE RARE SOLOISTS—Miss May Hoone, Cornetist; Mr. Ashton Lewis, Violinist and Conductor; Miss Lottie McLaughlin, Soprano.

Mrs. Bertha Kunz-Baker,
February 4th

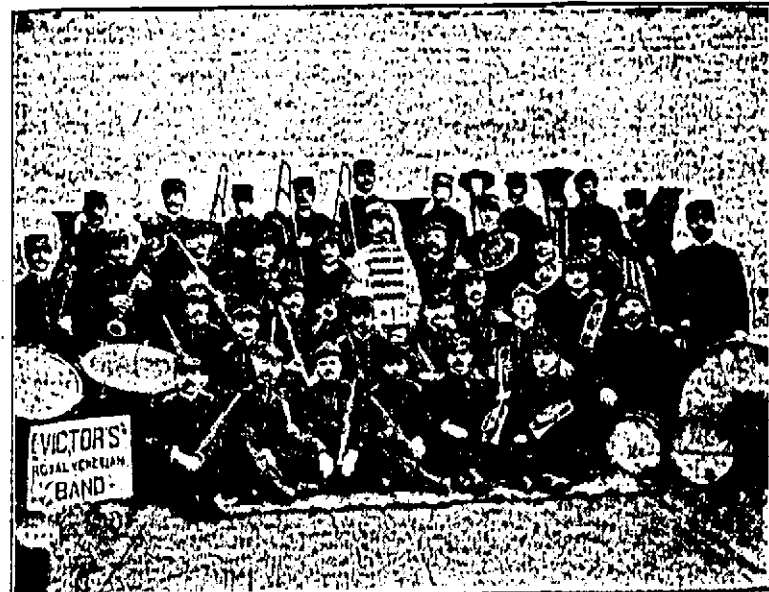

Mrs. Kunz-Baker is the greatest Dramatic Interpreter on the recital platform in America.

She will give "The Servant in the House"—the drama that created a wonderful sensation in Chicago last winter. People who have seen both say she is better than the play. Read these comments:

DR. ALBERT SHAW, Editor of "The Review of Reviews": I have often thought, since Mrs. Baker gave her marvelous interpretations, that it would be a wonderful education—in standard poetry particularly—to hear her frequently and in a systematic fashion.

JUDGE E. R. SHERMAN, United States Circuit Court, Chicago: I have listened to Murdoch, Scott-Siddons and many others of the best artists, and in my judgment Mrs. Kunz-Baker is the peer of the greatest. Her mobility of face and feature, her flexibility of utterance and sweetness of tone, her compelling sense of power, purity and tenderness, her consummate skill in ranging the gamut of passion, and yet relieving its stress by delicate humor and softening its fierceness with pathos, her masterful ease and constant charm—all these combine to make her renditions a delight which can never be forgotten.

Victor and His Royal Venetian Band, Dec. 13th

This celebrated band of artists is one of the leading bands of America. It ranks at the top of a list comprising such bands as Brooke's Marine Band, Banda Rosa, Phinney's U. S. Band, Rosato's Italian Band.

If this band appeared at the opera house it would play to crowded houses at $1.50 a seat. No band as skilled has ever played in Janesville. DON'T MISS THIS FAVORITE.

De Witt Miller, November 16th

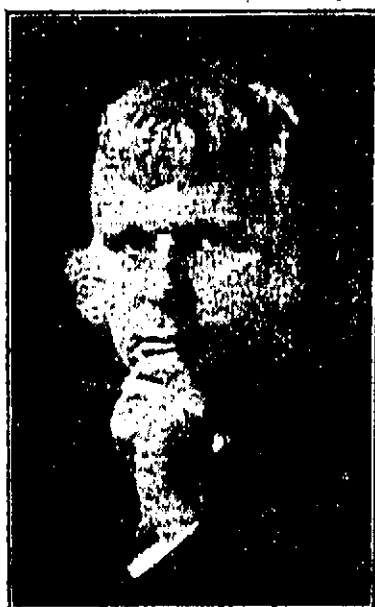

Authorities pronounce Mr. Miller's lectures the rarest ever offered on the public platform. He has that ability of holding an audience from first to last in rapt attention.

18 YEARS AT CINCINNATI—On the Cincinnati Unity course Mr. Miller appeared before one of the most critical audiences in America for the eighteenth consecutive time. He is acknowledged to be the most acceptable speaker of the age. You owe it to yourself to hear him.

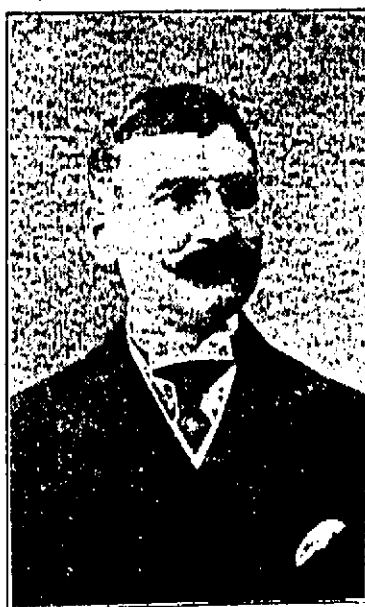

Judge George D. Alden, March 3rd

Every young man and young woman will be lastingly impressed with Judge Alden's inspiring lecture on "The Needs of the Hour." In Judge Alden our people will hear one of the greatest lecturers that lives.

You NEED to hear him. He carries a live, burning message from the best thought of today—straight to your mind and your heart. You will think WITH him.

DE WITT MILLER.

JUDGE GEORGE D. ALDEN.

The Central Grand Concert Company, April 23rd

Concert Numbers--Solos. Four Renowned Artists

Each member of this company is a recognized genius—each one a great soloist.

MAXIMILIAN DICK, Violinist. At present violin soloist for the famous Thomas Orchestra, Chicago. A brilliant performer.

MISS EDITH ADAMS, Violoncellist. The greatest woman cellist in America. She is without question one of the most-artistic and brilliant cellists of the day. At Munich she played before Bavarian royalty. At her last recital there the audience rose in demonstrative applause and cheered her. She is wonderful.

ADOLPH KNAUER, Pianist. Mr. Knauer was pianist for the Metropolitan Grand Opera stars at their appearance in repertoire at the Auditorium in Chicago last winter. His accompaniments are matchless. His solos are superb.

MME. AUBI PEARLE-MEYER, Soprano. She has just returned from a three years' sojourn in Germany. Mme. Pearle-Meyer has electrified many of the musical centers of the world. Her voice is the most pleasing you will hear, outside of the leading grand opera companies of this country and Europe.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

NE of the best ways to get through a tedious task that I know is to set yourself stunts.

When I was in college I earned some of the money for the extra one summer by going to work in an office. The first task I had given me to do was the filing of some thousands of patents, a performance that was absolutely tedious and just.

At first I worked blindly along, not getting my work done as fast as I could and letting it go at that. And as the work itself was entirely uninteresting I was bored to death.

Then somehow or other I took to setting myself stunts, racing with myself.

"I will get the C's done by five tonight," I would say, and that would be something to work for.

Instead of going listlessly ahead I threw myself energetically into the work and if I got that done or even more than that I experienced great pride and pleasure.

It helped a lot and I've done it with all my disagreeable and tedious tasks since then.

Did you ever try it? Do some day.

Say, "The dishes by half past eight and the beds by nine," and see what fun it is to beat yourself by ten minutes.

It's really worth trying.

A wedding tour ended two hours after it had started the other day in a hospital, because the bride had a broken leg and the groom a dislocated collar bone.

What was the trouble?

Oh, simply that the young people of the town were having a little fun with the back, and the horses not fancying a "We are married" sign dangling against their knees, bolted.

Will somebody have to be killed before young people begin to realize that life-endangering recklessness is no more permissible at a wedding than anywhere else?

Or will even that not be lesson enough?

Many girls who work in stores or offices come home and wear their office gowns—shirtwaist or shirtwaist suit all the evening.

I think that's a bad plan.

The best way to prepare for the next day's work is to get us far away from the office atmosphere as you possibly can—see different people, talk and think mostly about different things and even wear different clothes.

Of course it would be absurd for the average working girl to dress for dinner. I'm not advising that.

My suggestion is that any girl who can possibly afford it have some simple pretty house gown—not a kimono or distinct negligee—that she can quickly slip into as soon as she gets home from work, and unless she is going out or entertaining formally, wear all the evening.

Such a gown need cost but little, will wear two or three winters, and to any working girl who adds it to her wardrobe I can promise, from my own experience, that she will find it one of the best investments in solid comfort stock she ever made.

Louise Woods, the clever, charming actress appearing in Haines's latest success, "In Matrimony a Fallure," has won a warm place in the hearts of New York theater goers. Miss Woods, unlike most of her contemporaries, is a thorough student. She speaks French fluently and gets much pleasure out of her devotion to music.

The value of advertising is not to be measured only by the direct returns from advertisements. Honest, continuous advertising and making good on promises help to create for advertisers good will—an asset of intangible but very real value.

Careless Man.
How careless people are! We saw a man in a store this morning buying a pair of suspenders, who said he had been trying to think of them for two years; he had needed a pair for two years, but always forgot, when downtown, to buy them. Is it any wonder that this sort of a creature occasionally forgets to kiss his wife before leaving the house in the morning?—Atchinson (Kas.) Globe.

THURBER PICTURES TO BE SHOWN HERE

Art League Decides to Have Another Exhibition from Chicago Galleries Next Month.

At the regular meeting of the Janesville Art League held at the city hall assembly chamber yesterday afternoon it was decided to invite Seymour Thurber to bring another exhibition of paintings from the Chicago galleries to this city sometime during November. Mrs. Mary Donaldson was leader of the meeting. Papers were read on the following topics: "Composition of Color in Decoration," by Mrs. Davis; "Primitive Decoration," by Mrs. Day; "Egyptian Decoration," by Mrs. Edden; "Chaldeo-Assyrian Decoration," by Miss Goodwin.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Alta McCarthy of Monroe was a visitor in the city yesterday. Mrs. Blanche Schellinger of Beloit was a visitor here yesterday. J. M. Hesk of Milton transacted business here yesterday. Mrs. and Mrs. James Lewis of Albany were visitors here yesterday. Mrs. Frank Larson of Stoughton spent Friday in the city. Stanley Dunwiddie and H. Stone Loveloy are attending the Indiana-Wisconsin football game at Madison today.

Miss Nellie Miller left last evening for Monroe where she will spend Sunday.

Mrs. M. Almsie and Miss Elizabeth Almsie of Whitewater were visitors here on Friday.

Miss Anna E. Fuller is visiting with her parents in Whitewater. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Holmes and two sons of Madison are visiting with Janesville relatives.

Francis C. Grant returned from Monroe yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Lewis of Juneau are visiting with the latter's mother, Mrs. Carrie Ravney, on Court street.

On General Principles.
A little mob of five who had no brother and who did not like the boys at school who teased her, especially a boy named John, remarked at home: "I wish John was my boy. Do you know, if he belonged to me, I'd lick him whether he needed it or not."—Exchange.

THE NEW AVIATOR.
A trust has been formed to control the flying machine output.—News Item.

Wrestlers Are Too Rough.
Chicago, Oct. 23.—Zikowsko, reputed champion wrestler of Europe, failed to throw Charles "Kid" Cutler after 31 minutes of fast and furious work at the Coliseum. Fighting like enraged bulls, the two men fell through the ropes, and despite the efforts of bystanders and policemen, did not separate until Cutler fell exhausted and badly hurt. Assistant Chief of Police Schentler interfered at this stage of the game and refused to permit Cutler to return to the mat. The three-man six-minute match in which Zikowsko was pitted against Jourdan, D'Uzes, J. P. Ruggero and Charles "Kid" Cutler thus resulted in a draw without decision.

Waltham Watches

Don't Be Fooled

Buying a watch ought to be a serious business. If you pick up a catalogue issued by a mail order house and send on to Chicago or some other place for a watch, you are likely to be disappointed. The thing to do is to go to a jeweler; tell him you want a Waltham watch. He will give you what you want; but before you pay him he will overhaul the mechanism, oil it up, get the watch in good running shape and keep it so for any reasonable length of time; and any watch bought from a responsible watchmaker or jeweler that does go wrong this Company will make good. We cannot, however, stand back of watches bought haphazard from the catalogues of mail order houses.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Oct. 23, 1869.—Served Them Right.—A sharp-eyed attendant at a printing establishment in Chicago, canvassed the city a few days ago, and took several orders for job printing, not failing to collect at least part of the money. But, before he got out of town a suspicion began to prevail that the thing was not on the square, and they at once took steps to recover the money, and succeeded in doing so. Job printing is done in this town just as cheaply as in Chicago, and the man who patronize out of town institutions in preference to those located here deserve no consideration if they do not get bit.

Death of Mr. E. H. Woodward.—It is indeed a painful duty that we are called upon to perform, in announcing the death of Mr. E. H. Woodward, which took place in this city this morning. He was a young man whom none knew but to respect, and his death will cast gloom over a large circle of friends. His remains will be taken to Warehouse Point, Conn.

Jottings.—Morris Jones, a former pupil at the Blind Institution of this State, accompanied Mr. Knapp, the builder of the Congregational organ, and will assist in testing the instrument.

Col. C. W. McHenry, who has been doing effective service in the Republican cause in the southwestern portion of the state, by addressing meetings, was compelled to surrender a portion of his engagements, on account of illness. He has been confined to his house for several days, but is now out again.

The cars on the C. & N. W. Railway, from each way, came in today with snow on their roofs. From the feel in the air we are not surprised. It is decidedly cool.

Remembered Dereliction.

On a recent Sunday the clergyman of a parish church in Kent, England, was reading the notices for the week, and concluded by saying: "There will be christening next Sunday at ten-thirty." He then slowly walked to the pulpit. Suddenly turning toward the congregation, he remarked in severe tones: "Remember, Mrs. Tomlinson, I said ten-thirty. A year ago you were late, I believe."

Lucky Eskimos.

Indeed, have no name for drugs or doctors. Nature here acts the good sanitarian and shuts the door against all disease germs and blends in their food iodine, the most powerful and least harmful of all antiseptics. The use of remedies either inside or out is unknown. Wounds heal up at once without mummifying. All tumors, warts and cancers are unknown.
